BIO

Basketball legend Maurice 'Mo' Evans is best known for his strong defense and athleticism. Evans is a successful, award-winning motivational speaker and entrepreneur inspiring others to win whatever the odds. Master storyteller and accomplished speaker, Evans inspires Fortune 500 and individuals to focus on what matters most – perseverance, achieving peak performance, developing winning teams, strong leadership, and uncovering hidden opportunities.

When meeting Mo, you first notice his height. But his influence, outstanding leadership skills, and character quality go much deeper. Mo spent two years of his eleven-year professional basketball career in the NBA and two years playing overseas in Greece. His integrity on and off the court led to numerous civic awards.

With his team-building acumen from the courts of the Sacramento Kings, Detroit Pistons, and Atlanta Hawks to the Los Angeles Lakers, Evans stands out as a team-building expert.

Evans is president and board member of the Legends of Basketball, NBPRA Chapter of Houston, supporting retired NBA players' needs.

The Co-Owner/Brand Manager for Esther's Cajun Cafe & Soulfood, COO of The MOLO Agency, and Executive Producer of his nationally syndicated talk show "The Flow" on the "Believe It Network."

Beyond his impressive accomplishments on the court, Mo embodies strong values characterized by integrity, humility, and an unwavering sense of purpose. He epitomizes what it means to be an inspiration to today's young athletes, encouraging others to follow in their footsteps and achieve greatness.
